The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Horiuchi (EP ('402).

In particular, Figure 1 of this reference still shows of all of these claim limitations in that the claim only requires that the actuator be a stroke-producing member. There is no requirement that the stroke producer work directly on the needle.

Secondly, claim 4 is perhaps trying to say that the connector and the fastening members are part of a single rigid structure, but the claim is too broad to include such a limitation and a review of the specification regarding element (74) does not indicate that this is necessarily the case.

Claims 8, 10 – 14 and 17 – 33 are allowed.

Applicant's arguments filed June 5, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In particular, the comments made above regarding the rejection of the two noted claims under 35 USC. 102 (b) make any additional arguments unnecessary except to note that element (47) is the fastening member of claim 4.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
